How long will my house purchase take?

How long it will take from your offer being accepted until you can move in to your house will depend on a number of factors. The average process takes between 8-10 weeks.

It can be quicker or slower, depending on the parties in the chain. For example, if you are a first-time buyer, purchasing a new build property with a mortgage in principle, it could take 10-12 weeks. However, if you are buying a leasehold property that requires an extension of the lease, this can take significantly longer, between 3 and 4 months. In such, a situation additional charges would apply.

Stages of the process

The precise stages involved in the purchase of a residential property vary according to the circumstances. However, below we have listed usual stages of the conveyancing transaction:

- Take your instructions and give you initial advice
- Client care documentation issued and obtained identity evidence from you
- Check finances are in order to proceed with the purchase
- Receive and advise on contract documents and freeholder/management pack (if leasehold)

- Carry out searches
- Obtain planning documentation if required
- Make any necessary enquiries of seller's solicitor
- Give you advice on all documents and information received
- Go through conditions of mortgage offer with you
- Send final contract to you for signature
- Agree completion date (date from which you own the property)
- Exchange contracts and notify you that this has happened
- Arrange for all monies needed to be received from lender and you
- Complete purchase
- Deal with payment of Stamp Duty/Land Tax
- Deal with application for registration at Land Registry
- If leasehold, we will submit the necessary notices, payments and deeds to freeholder/management company
- Storage of file and deeds

It should be noted that the price may increase should any of the following apply:

- Legal title is defective or part of it is unregistered
- Issues with building regulations and/or planning permission
- Dealing with additional documentation on a purchase of a new build property
- Dealing with a Help to Buy Mortgages/ISA

How long will it take?

How long it will take to re-mortgage your property depends on a number of factors, including how quickly your mortgage offer is obtained, length of time to obtain search results, whether your mortgage is dependent on a survey, and the type of property you are re-mortgaging. The average process takes between 4–6 weeks.

All our fees assume that:

- 1. This is a standard transaction and that no unforeseen matters arise including for example (but not limited to) a defect in title which requires remedying prior to completion or the preparation of additional documents ancillary to the main transaction
- 2. This is the assignment of an existing lease and is not the grant of a new lease
- 3. The transaction is concluded in a timely manner and no unforeseen complications arise
- 4. All parties to the transaction are co-operative and there is no unreasonable delay from third parties providing documentation
- 5. No indemnity policies are required. Additional disbursements may apply if indemnity policies are required.
